

TIGER CLASS

In English, Tiger Class have been busy identifying features a writer uses to engage and enthuse the reader. Using shared write texts, the children have then applied this knowledge to writing their own version. Tiger Class have worked really hard to ensure that they have avoided repetition, included short, sharp sentences and vivid description. The children have ended the week, planning a new version for their independent write.

In Maths, Tiger Class have been learning how to convert fractions into decimals and how fractions can be divided to work out an answer. The children have also been developing their knowledge of percentages and converting fractions to a percentage.

During the afternoons, Tiger class have thought more carefully about the values of Humanism. They have used oil pastels, in their art lessons, to create their own versions of 'Starry night' and they have sequenced a timeline of Space exploration from the 1950's to present day.

In PE, they have developed their hockey skills and in guided reading they have read chapters 4 and 5 of 'Holes'.
